I am a new local business based in Littlehampton and need people to know where we are and what we do. As far as I am aware, no-one owns the plot of land I would like to place my lawn board but I was told over the phone that it could be owned by the council highways and I would have to go through the council and obtain planning permission for the sign. However, I have noticed further along bridge road where I would like my board to be placed that there are other boards larger than ours which have been advertising sales of properties and other businesses and events occurring.
