Mrs Johnson, this is the email I sent on the 15th - to which I have also added today a photograph from the end of the garden onto which the door would open (right at the far end on the left).

I am anxious to know if I can go ahead with these minor works and would appreciate your views on this or if you need any further information. I can be reached on [REDACTED] if it is easier to discuss.

Many thanks

Ian

Mrs Johnson,

I attach a plan showing where the existing window is and also a photograph so you can see the existing situation.

The window faces directly onto a communal garden, to which other flats (in Block A, as shown on the plan) already have direct access via doors from their flats.

The window is at the far end of the communal garden from its entrance – the gap shown in the wall at the right hand end of that space - and would not be visible by anyone who is not in the garden, at that end of it or directly opposite it.

I will of course ensure that the door is in keeping with the other windows/doors already in use.

I look forward to hearing from you with any further questions.

Thank you for your kind assistance.

Regards

Ian Harvey-Samuel
