

Heritage statement

We took over the business in March this year and do not like the current gaudy colours of the building which are yellow and green. The building is located in the heart of Arundel and would be far more fitting and suited to its surroundings if the rotten frontage is repaired and it's painted a more neutral colour. This is a simple application to change just the colour of the building and make the damage good.