Subject: Arun Conservation Area Advisory Panel comments on applications

Hello,
The Arun Conservation Area Advisory Panel wish the following comments to be taken into consideration in the determination of the applications:

AB/141/25/PL - Norfolk Centre and Maison Dieu North Side, Mill Road, Arundel
No Objection

Although the location of the site is extremely sensitive in terms of the multiple designated heritage assets, it is so concealed from public view that the Panel considers that the works will have no adverse on the character or appearance of the conservation area.
The Panel welcomed this as a permanent storage solution rather than continue with temporary structures in more exposed sites within the conservation area.
The Panel considered that unstained timber, preferably oak, would be better than stained timber since it would weather more satisfactorily in this particular location, and would need less long term maintenance.
Note: Carolyn Kenney declared an interest in the application and took no part in the Panel’s consideration of it.

Kind regards and Happy Christmas
