Good afternoon Chris,

I notice that the floor plans are only showing small windows in the rear elevations. Is it correct then that the living room and bedrooms do not contain any windows? A photo of the property is showing windows in the elevations and these need to be shown on the floor plans.

Hope I've made that clear. I am out of the office on Monday and Tuesday and returning Wednesday so I will deal with any emails on my return. The application will not be validated until Delwyn Jones has checked the legal agreement.

Kind regards

Julie Grieves

Dear Ms Grieves

Please find attached revised floor plans including doors and reference to bin storage/cycle storage area. As stated previously no internal or external changes are proposed as part of this application.

I trust now that the application can be validated.
