Dear James Hirtle

Development:

Oak (T1) reduce crown by 2m in height and breadth. The tree is a lapsed pollard so has a very dense canopy with weakly attached growth points. In our view a crown reduction using drop crotch pruning would improve both the appearance of the tree as well as reduce any potential risk from branches snapping out. Crown reduction would include crown lift and removal of any dead wood and defects. It is also worth noting that the tree is large and imposing in comparison to the size of the small garden it is located in.

Location:

7 Oak End ARUNDEL
