Good afternoon Anita,

I hope you're keeping safe and well?

Following discussions with the client and roofing contract last week, it appears that the 'approved' roof tile is currently unable due to supply issues. As such it is instead being proposed to use the Terreal Rully interlocking clay roof in 'Old Burgundy' as an alternative to the Gemini Mixed Russet and for which I am seeking approval to.

I have attached link to website: - <https://terreal.co.uk/products/roof-tiles/tiles/small-format-interlocking/details/produit/rully-1ru/coloris/> together with photograph below for your information/consideration.

I hope the alternative proposal meets with your approval albeit should you have any queries or indeed concerns, please do come back to me.

Kind regards,

Dear Mr Pendry,

I have considered the submitted materials and agree that the suggested brick is suitable. I also have no objection to the type or profile of tile requested, but would suggest that an alternative colour is considered. The area is dominated by red/brown tiles and grey would not reflect this. Please can you confirm whether you would be prepared to consider an alternative and if so which colour from the range?

Regards

Anita Gardner
