Dear Ms Hedley-Smith

From your website I learnt that the decision on the above application has been deferred whilst Environmental Health considers the matter further.

As I have repeatedly stated in correspondence I have no wish at all to truncate the ambitions of my neighbours commercial operation as can be seen from copy correspondence attached here. As I mentioned in my letter of the 13th June last year I tried right from the start to address my concerns directly to the new owners by speaking to their contractors and leaving messages for them to contact me. They never responded, but I did at last contact them and explained my issues. I did not receive a particularly constructive response and since then they have made absolutely no attempt at dialogue in an effort to placate my concerns.

The noise issue is real but I am confident that if they would accept that fact and treat with me on the issue we could perhaps resolve the problem to both our betterment although plainly you may have other planning issues unrelated.

I close by again stating that I have no wish to give rise to a neighbourly dispute in what is a close community (a factor which I told the owners at the very start on the only occasion that I was able to speak to them). However, I fail to see why my right to a goodnight's sleep should be undermined due to a lack of consideration.

I remain willing to try and resolve this matter in any way reasonable which may also assist you and your colleagues in the decision making process.

Yours sincerely

Michael Tims
