Hi

spotted the error..... 2700 rather than 27000.
See amended drawing... so sorry for this; just like pulling teeth.

Good Afternoon Mr Locke

Thank you for your email and the attached plan.

I have tried to contact you today regarding the Block plan, as I have checked the plan and spoken to my Team Leader with regards to the measurement to the rear boundary. For clarity, please could you amend it to 27000 as on the original Block Plan submitted.

Kind Regards

Nicky Moore

Nicky

Attached is our amended drawing 06....
I have reverted to the 2700 dim my previous note identified that the reduction in line thickness;
the new amended dim was a result of that action and change in "moving the measure point..."

Good Afternoon Robin

Thank you for your email and the attached plans.

I have measured the scale bar on the Block Plan and there is still a slight discrepancy with the measurement. For clarity could you please remove the scale bar? Also, the measurement to the rear boundary is showing now as 2766, but on the previous plan submitted it was 27000, please could you amend accordingly.

Kind Regards

thanks for your response. Appreciated.

I have revised dwg 03 as noted. Thanks for spotting this. I have also checked the dims on the block plan and can confirm that on screen untranslated from the supplier that the scale bar is 90m. I have reissued this with my dimension overplayed. Also I have reduced the line thickness for the outline of the garage and moved the measure point. The new measure is scaled on screen by the measuring tool.

I do hope that all this is acceptable to you.

Good Afternoon

Thank you for your email and the attached information.

In Dauns absence I have checked the documents received, and have a slight discrepancy with the measurements on the Block Plan. I have measured the scale bar to be 89m and not 90m, and the distance to the rear boundary 27.5m. Please can you check and confirm that the measurements provided are correct.

I have also checked the plans already submitted, and on Dwg 3 Existing Elevations, the elevations have been labelled Proposed. Please amend accordingly and re submit.

Kind Regards

Nicky Moore
