Hi Liam

Thank you for your email.

From an arboricultural perspective I am obviously happy with this outcome, as it eliminates risk of significant damage to the most valuable tree on site. Your proposal has my full support, although any final decision will need to be made by my colleagues in the planning department having taking into account advice from our Engineers and any other affected/interested parties.

Kind regards,

Dear Mark,

Thanks very much for your response,

I have been discussing this in depth with my client and their preference is to avoid any work around the roots of the TPO tree and with that in mind, please can you confirm if the route shown in red on the attached plan would be acceptable?
