Dear Sir,

Planning Application AL/26/14/PL

In reference to the appeal by the five properties in Old Dairy Lane, Norton Lane in the parish of Aldingbourne, we wish to support the appeal of the owners of these properties in that they are classified as residential dwellings rather than holiday residences, as at present.

In support of the application we would bring it to your attention that the whole community of Norton Lane would benefit from these properties being residential rather than very short-term holiday lets, with a constant change of tenant. Permanent residents would make a greater contribution to the community than transient holiday-makers.

Resident-owners would ensure more effective, continued and careful upkeep of the properties, than short-stay tenants, thus maintaining Norton Lane as a community where all residents take a pride in their homes and surroundings.

The whole character of Norton Lane would change should the five properties in Old Dairy Lane be designated as holiday homes.

Yours faithfully,

David and Jeannette Couling
