Hi Simon

We looked at a long row but felt a courtyard group would be more informal, rural and in keeping with the design of the building. If needed it could be changed.

Many thanks for the update.

Regards

Hi Liz,

I have one concern with the Sack Lane application re the way the building has been angled so as to no longer be on the same building line as before/as the other cottages to the east. I appreciate that it now has the same building line as Winters Barn but I would prefer it if it fronted the road as before. However, I have spoken with Dan and given its rural location & the relatively low number of nearby dwellings, we are unsure whether this arrangement causes any harm to character. Dan has a meeting with Neil Crowther next Thursday week and will speak to him about it then. I can then advise what our stance will be.

Kind Regards
