27th July 2018

Dear Mr Andy Kirk

Development:

Amendment to Previous Permission for Single Storey Rear Extension & Covered Patio

During the creation of the building specification (post planning application) it came to light that the roof would require a fall on the flat roof (3 degrees) for the rainwater to run off the roof. In doing this height of the roof increased, at the highest point of the fall, by approximately 580mm. Also during the creation of the building specification a decision was made to use a warm roof design where the insulation is on top of the steelwork, this increased the height of the roof by a further 140mm. In total an increase of 720mm. In an effort to keep the outward design with the original planning application of a flat roof (zero degrees) there is a need to put a parapet wall around the inclined roof, where the top edge of the parapet wall is at zero degrees, see drawing H-010-001-0106 Rev C.

The building work for planning application AL/4/17/HH is underway and the creation of the parapet wall has come around organically during the build.
