Subject: Rather tall mast erected on westergate street

Dear Sirs

When we bought our house many years ago in Westergate/Aldingbourne parish. We were advised that we were not allowed to erect anything taller than our House and certainly No Water towers or other tall outbuildings. !! Obviously our deeds were written well before Mobile Phones were invented (if this is what this Monstrosity is). So does that mean we can now erect taller outbuildings ourselves as this mast is way above our roofs and is an eyesore. I guess if we want to Move forward with technology things must be put in place but why so High. !!

When it was just the ground based boxes not a problem but when did the rules change or is this due to being on Council grass the rules are different. !!

Your advice please

A surprised Parishioner
