Dear Mr Roberts

The application is for clipping a bay (Laurus nobilis) subject to a Tree Preservation Order. Although a relatively large specimen it is shrub-like in appearance and has been regularly clipped to achieve its present form.

The tips of the lateral growth will be clipped with shears or hedge-trimmers; the lateral extension growth removed will vary between 0.02m and 0.25m in length.

Vertical shoot extension growth is far greater and to achieve a uniform appearance the amount specified in the planning application will require removal.

The proposal is not for a crown reduction but for annual clipping of a mature shrub.

Regards

Jonathan Rodwell
