Tree at 54 West...

driveway.

2. The tree has a low fork union and included bark attachment at approximately 10ft in height, the tree is approximately 60ft in height and this increase pressure On this Union is not ideal considering the species of tree and the brittleness of it.

In my profession opinion it would be prudent to remove this tree due to the above paying particular attention to the root system issue which can be seen on the photos attached and would be more apparent on a site visit.

Kind regards,
