Dear Amber,

Further to my email this morning, please find attached images showing the brickwork and course that the new soil pipework would take.

Just to be clear, the path of the new soil pipework would be underground and not visible from the rear elevation itself, entering the new bathroom from under the floor. This is exactly the same application method as the pipework to the existing bathroom.

I trust this provides you with what you need.

Kind regards,
Haig

Dear Mr Dalton,

Thank you for this.

I've just had a look at the plans and the statement and I note all the works are internal except for a single soil pipe being inserted into the outer wall. I wonder if you have a picture of the elevation of how this would appear from the external view.

If the works are all internal then planning permission would not be required.

I note there is another application AW/241/20/L for the property which is currently on hold. This application deals with the listed consent and needs to be approved before any works can take place.

Thanks
Amber

Dear Amber,

I note the consultation comments of Aldwick Parish Council and can respond as follows.

The new external soil pipe would be made of aluminium finished in black to match the historic downpipes and guttering of the listed building, with the walling made good using lime mortar, in accordance with Historic England best practice.

Should you require anything further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,
Haig
