Dear Mr Beam,

All entries marked intelete are those which have been submitted through our website.

I am unable to confirm that all the objections e-mails and letters on the application site documents have been logged as proper objections. In order for me to do this, I would need to check every letter. However, there is no reason to suspect that they will not have all been registered correctly. I will say however, that objectors submitting by email to myself will not have got a confirmation of receipt email. But that anyone submitting to planning@arun.gov.uk or online will have got an automatic confirmation.

We will still accept all letters received after the 3rd of October. The significance of that date is that we cannot issue a decision until after then.

Kind Regards

Subject: AW/237/19/PL The Ship Inn

Dear Mr Davis,

Please can you inform me about some points regarding application AW/237/19/PL.

Some of the objections to this application on the website have the word "intelete" against them. Can you tell me what this means?

Can you confirm that all the objections e-mails and letters on the application site documents have been logged as proper objections, and the objectors will be informed when this application goes to a committee hearing?

Can you confirm that 3 October is the last day for objections, or will the committee accept those submitted later?

Many thanks for your help.

Roger Beam. Chairman. Friends of the Ship Inn
