Dear Janice,
 Thank you for your email, the tree has a strong amenity value and is located centrally within the close. The residents enjoy the tree and understand the constraints that the tree holds over the tree. The residents however do not want the tree to get any bigger than it is and want to manage the tree within the constraints set down by the British standard. To this end the proposed reduction is a pro active measure intended to manage the tree within its setting, the dead wooding will safeguard my clients position (owners liability act) and the reduction will reduce the spread of the branch network allowing the tree to exist harmoniously with the surrounding residents. The reduction will be carried out by trained operatives and will meet the required standard (BS3998) and will not be detrimental to the health of the tree nor the aesthetic of the branch network. My client is showing goodwill to the other residents of the close by being proactive with this tree and considering that a reduction of this nature will not be detrimental in anyway to the tree I can see no reason why it could or would be considered for refusal. Please feel free to contact me if I can be of further assistance

Kind regards

A reduction of this nature will not be detrimental to the health of the tree nor the aesthetic of the branch network and therefore in my opinion should be allowed to proceed

Kindest regards
 Ian Tooth.
 In my opinion

Dear Mr Tooth,

Please see e-mail from Mr Brewster, Council's Arboriculturist. Can you confirm the reason for the Oak trees reduction.

Dear Janice,

The removal of deadwood and alleviating the crown of weak growth is reasonable and acceptable, however is the applicant able to provide a reason for the tree reduction works?

Regards

Ian
