Dear Mr Barrow

Thank you for your email to Mrs Grieves. I note that the North point was on the plan but it is not overly clear unless you know to look in the details panel. To be honest when I looked having just received your email, it was not immediately apparent to me. Obviously this was our error and the application will of course be backdated to when it came in, but I would appreciate it greatly if in future you could make it more apparent. Possibly nearer to the map extracts or possibly larger if it is going to remain in the details panel. You will appreciate that members of the public look at these plans and they will be less familiar with reading plans, so the clearer it is the better.

Thank you in anticipation of your cooperation.

Yours sincerely

Nicola Spencer

Dear Mrs. Grieves,

Further to your emailed letter dated 5th December 2013 and the query raised, I respond as follows.

Our drawing no 1 showing site plan and block plan already has a north point shown on the bottom right hand corner.

I trust this clarifies your query and look forward to receiving approval in due course.

Yours sincerely,

CHRISTOPHER BARROW
