Subject: AW/337/19/A Signage for Ship Inn Aldwick - One Stop Shop

Dear Ms Willard,

I just wanted to comment that the proposed signage in the garish colours will be completely out of character with the area and surely cannot be put on a building designated of Special Character.

I feel really sorry for the people in the old cottages adjacent to the car park and it seems it is just being steamrollered through regardless.

Its as if they have assumed they have all the planning permissions and it will all get waved through. Is Tesco that powerful?? Shops have failed on this site before and this one will as well as the people do not want it but The Ship will be destroyed by this Company unless people with some common sense look at the plans and make considered judgements. I sincerely hope I can consider you in that category.

Yours sincerely,
