Dear Amelia,

the above application refers to three Yew trees which have been pruned regularly into large and low green spheres. They are a dominating feature in the garden and would restrict space and recreational activities for the home owners. I understand that the trees have a historic connection with the area and they would have been smaller in size at that time.

I support the application and would recommend the reduction of each tree crown to not exceed a maximum of 0.5m both in height and size.

Yours sincerely

Ian Brewster
