Darren

Apologies please see below. I call this one Vestbirk and the larger one Angmering.

I hope this is what is required.

Dear Darryl, Matt

If Pip hasn't been able to make anything of the apparent concentration of features at the east end of the site then I think the investigation has gone about as far as is reasonable. I therefore agree that the archaeological fieldwork for this site can be considered to be finished.

Best wishes,

James

James,

Thanks for the visit to site last Friday. Pip was able to show you all three agreed small excavation areas as well as the extent of the service run that the contractor had pulled to potential archaeological horizon along its length.

There was a cluster of features in the east end of the service run and you asked for an update on those once sampled. Pip tells me that there were very few finds from any of these. She also extended the area around the ditch you discussed and excavated the terminus. She will get the recording of the exposed archaeology wrapped up by the end of tomorrow.

I'd be grateful if you could confirm that on the above basis you're happy to sign off the area now? I will follow up with a quick phone call tomorrow to check this is all okay.

Thanks,

Darryl Palmer, MCIfA.
