Figure 1 consists of five vertically stacked line graphs, each representing a different age group of children. The y-axis for all graphs is 'PERCENTAGE OF CORRECT RESPONSES' ranging from 0 to 100 in increments of 20. The x-axis for all graphs is 'TRIAL' ranging from 1 to 5. Each graph has a legend with two series: 'CORRECT' (represented by a solid line with open circles) and 'INCORRECT' (represented by a dashed line with open circles). The data points are as follows:

Figure 1. The effect of the concentration of the Agrobacterium suspension on the transformation efficiency of Agrobacterium strains. The number of transformed cells was determined by the number of colonies obtained on the selective medium. The results are the mean of three independent experiments. Error bars represent the standard deviation.

Figure 1 consists of 10 scatter plots labeled (a) through (j). Each plot has 'Number of children (N)' on the y-axis and 'Number of mothers (M)' on the x-axis. The data points are represented by small circles. The plots show different patterns of correlation and data spread, with some showing a clear positive trend and others showing more scattered data.
