Dear Kristy,

That's fine. We can give you until the 19th January but that will be the last extension.

Kind Regards

Good afternoon Simon,

Thank you for your email,

Unfortunately our engineers in their review highlighted 2 areas where additional information would be needed to complete the report which has pushed us past the original deadline of the 9th Jan. The team are still working to action the comments received but the updated report will likely be ready in a week,

If the determination deadline could be adjusted to allow for resubmission, that would be much appreciated, however I appreciate this is now considered overdue,

Many thanks,

Kristy

Dear Kristy,

The extension to the 9th January has been and gone. Can you let me know when you will be in a position to submit the amendments? Please let me know by the end of today otherwise we will likely issue a refusal.

Kind Regards

Simon
