Hi James,

Following our conversation earlier, could you please make the amendments below:

Location plan: Remove the scale bar

Block Plan: Name a scale, put on a north point and highlight the position of the solar panels

Submit a photo showing the entire roof

Side Elevation: This also requires a named scale

Kind Regards

Ms Malik

Hi Iqraa,

I have just tried to phone you to discuss this.

Further to you statements: -

All plans: The scale bar on all plans submitted, the location plan, block plan, front and rear elevations do not measure to scale. Please amend.

Rear elevation: The annotations on this are unclear, please provide a clearer version.

I do not understand.

This application is for putting solar panels on a wall, nothing more than that.

There is no building works being undertaken.

The Location & Block plans I have submitted are markups from the previous extension that was undertaken on my house in 2013.

The application number was A/13/13/ & I attach the decision notice so that you can check.

The Location & Block plans were acceptable then to ADC in 2013 & there have been no scale changes so I fail to see any issue with the scaling.

All that I have done since is mark up the location of the solar panels onto these drawings.

Rear Elevation the annotations have no bearing on the solar panels & are therefore irrelevant & you can therefore ignore.

Again all I have done is markup this elevation with the location of the solar panels as you have requested.

Further I was advised to send in photos of the panels in location as part of the Application which I did, for some reason you then requested further details which don't have a bearing on the solar panel works which is all that this application is about.

It reads to me that you think there are building works going on but there aren't.

Please can you take a look at this again & get back to me ASAP?

Good afternoon,

Thank you for getting back to me.

Unfortunately, this application is still invalid for the following reasons:

All plans: The scale bar on all plans submitted, the location plan, block plan, front and rear elevations do not measure to scale. Please amend.

Rear elevation: The annotations on this are unclear, please provide a clearer version.

Along with this, I am on leave tomorrow & will return additional information please

Kind Regards

Ms Malik
