Dear Ms Myles,

Town & Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended)
Town & Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 - Article 39

Lawful Development Certificate for a Proposed Use or Development

Development: There is currently a double skinned outhouse used for craft in the garden, we propose that we extend the outhouse by 1.5m and match the width of the outhouse which is 3.65m. The current building has a flat roof which we also want to change to a pitched roof so that we can put a bed in the roof area. The current building has an electrical supply and a fuse box, however, we will be adding water input, waste removal for both toilet waste and water waste. The outhouse already has a waterbutt that collects rainwater to be reused in the garden which we will be keeping for our new guttering. We also have permission from both neighbours saying they have no issues with the proposed plan.
