Dear David Easton,

I would like to lodge an objection to Rydon Homes' planning application to install an ANPR camera instead of the previously planned physical mechanised barrier at the the Dappers Lane access route (between Greenways and Culberry Nursery) leading to the new 525 home development. For the safety of local residents, pedestrians and to preserve the quiet country lane it is important that this route is only used by buses, cyclists, pedestrians and emergency vehicles.

An ANPR camera would be too easy for drivers ignore and wouldn't even be visible to motorists trying to reach the development from Dappers Lane as it is proposed for the eastern end of the access route. When an ANPR cámara was proposed for the northern end of Dappers Lane by the underpass to prevent drivers from ignoring the No Entry sign, Sussex Police stated that if a camera was installed they wouldn't have the resources to monitor it, so it is clear that a camera wouldn't be much use here and would therefore lead to a huge increase in traffic in Dappers Lane. Dappers Lane doesn't have the capacity to accommodate any more traffic. More traffic would further endanger pedestrians and local wildlife. I have seen hedgehogs, foxes and a badger in Dappers Lane and their habitat needs to be protected. Considering the present biodiversity crisis it would be wise and responsible to act in the interests of the local wildlife rather than in saving corporate property developers a little money by allowing them a cheaper option which is likely to increase the negative impact of their new development.

Many thanks.

Yours sincerely,

Sarah Blackman
