Sorry Anita, yes if you could impose a condition stating that development should proceed in accordance with the submitted drainage details.

Thanks,

Laura,

Do you mean that you are satisfied that the condition doesn't need to be imposed?

If the application is approved would you like a condition imposed relating to development proceeding in accordance with submitted details?

Regards

Anita

Charlotte- Thank you for the explanation. That is fine. The drawings don't need to be updated.

Anita- I am happy to discharge the condition based on the latest plans provided.

Dear Laura,

Thank you for the query, the engineer's response was as follows.

The rear soakaway has been set at 16.4m AOD to found it well into the gravel but the calcs are based on the highest recorded groundwater level of 16.6m AOD. If we specify a base level of 16.6m AOD for the soakaway, this will require 600mm of crates, which are not readily available, so we thought best to use standard 400mm crates in 2 layers.

Do you still wish the plans to be edited?

Kind regards,

Charlotte Smith

Hi Charlotte,

The plans need to be updated to state that the rear soakaway will have a base level of 16.6mAOD, i.e. that of the highest recorded ground water level, and to tie in with the revised calculations provided.

Dear Laura,

Further to your request to my colleague Roman regarding shallower soakaways.

Please find attached the revised plans and calculations from the engineer.

Anita cc'd in for completeness.
