

Priora Charcoal

Due to the variable nature of the raw materials used in concrete products, slight colour and texture variation between both batches and sites are possible.

Marshall's has industry leading manufacturing processes in place to minimize this effect across its national manufacturing facilities, however some colour and texture variation is still possible.

These samples are provided only as an indication of the finished unit.

