Dear Rhiannon

Thank you for your email – I thought this request might be made! Please see attached.

We don't need to serve any further notices as the redline all remains in the rugby club's ownership.

In terms of a flue, I don't have any further details, however, these are just indicative drawings so may alter in any case as it is just the use of the land we are seeking permission for.

I hope the revised plan and position on the flue is agreeable.

Kind regards,
Peter

Dear Mr Cleveland,

I am the case officer for this application.
I note that the red line boundary does not extend to the boundary with the highway. This will require an amended plan, and potentially alterations to the ownership certificates if additional notices are due to be served on landowners.

Additionally, no flue is shown on the submitted sauna plans. Please could you confirm whether this is correct and provide amended plans if required.

As amendments to the red line are needed, I will place the application on hold until this matter, as well as certificate requirements, has been resolved.

Kind regards,
Rhiannon
