Subject: A/73/18/tc Section 211 Notification - St Margaret's Church Angmering - Proposed Tree Works

Dear Zac

Further to the above notification the Churchwarden for St Margaret's Church Angmering, James Nicholl, attended the Angmering Parish Council meeting last week where the notification was discussed.

During the meeting it was alleged by one attendee that the western red cedar trees were in excess of 100 years old.

Our own research shows that this is not the case. The lower section of the churchyard was purchased by the church in 1931 and before that time this area had been part of a field which the Black Ditch ran through. This is further supported by the attached postcard (circa 1920) which shows the church viewed approximately from Station Road.

As you will see in the picture the Black Ditch is visible in the centre of the field with no trees along its length.

I would be grateful if you would pass this information and the picture on to those interested and that this is of use to the council is arriving at a decision concerning this notification.

Yours sincerely

Ian Wieck

Dear Ian,

I found an old postcard of the graveyard from 1920s and thought you might be interested.
