Hi there

Well what can i say another piece of green

Area swallowed up by greedy developers

And be in no doubt a nice little earner to get planning permission???? We are going to end up losing green space and villages will be a thing if the past ? What we really need is housing that LOW income families can easily afford for example housing association

Housing everyone has a right to have a roof over their head in particular poorer families

After all we even if we are the scum of the earth we are still part of the human race

Black or white or whatever.

But of course that's not going to happen is

IT ??? just remember this the low income people still contribute to the economy

In fact they are the back bone of this country

It seems to me we are living in a capitalist

Society where the poor get pushed aside

By society and during this present situation

It's always the poor who suffer the most

My answer is yes to building more houses

But only if a majority of the properties are for low income

Families and not the middle classes

But no if you build for the above!!!!!!!!!!
