Dear sir,

I wish to object to this application. The decrease in number from 150 to 139 houses does not alter any of the previous objections to the building of houses to the east of Roundstone Lane. The infrastructure cannot support anything other than infill building in the village either on the roads, in the schools or the NHS provision. Drainage is also a problem.

The continuance of these applications on greenfield sites goes against Arun's stated policy to build on brownfield sites first. Angmering's Neighbourhood Plan and Arun's draft plan have not yet been finalised and it is ridiculous to allow applications before the final blueprint is published. There is no LOCAL need for 580 houses to be built each year in Arun merely to satisfy the greed of developers who already have permission on sites which they have chosen not to develop until it suits them financially. Local people in local jobs cannot afford these houses which go to incomers who commute out of the district every day adding to congestion and pollution on the roads and often adding little to the immediate local economy.

The population of Angmering has already been increased by over 25% by the building of Bramley Green. There are not the facilities to cope with yet more large scale development.

Yours faithfully
Gillian Partington
