Dear Mike,

We have not undertaken a further full review – the MicroDrainage calcs for instance have not been reviewed

Many of the points raised have either been as a result of you responding to Laura's points (e.g. requesting more detail) or from my picking up points in my review of the revised information you have kindly provided – the revisions have had a ripple-through effect – some of which have not been picked up in the current DoC drawings; Paul has picked these up now.

A lot of the points are very minor but need to be addressed before you would issue for construction and as such we have made the input at this stage – e.g. construction details of the Network 2 tank and the manhole/hydrobrake chamber details. On the Network 2 tank issue – this was changed as part of my review 15m > 5m wide then the need for a low flow channel.

I am sorry but you may have misunderstood – we have no issue with the main application, which will go to Committee tomorrow with our recommendation to approve – the issues raised relate solely to the DoC and as such are issues that need to be clarified before the various elements can be built.

Regards,

Roger
