Hi Ella

Further to your recent letter please find attached amended drawings now showing scale bars. The rooflight was already shown on the proposed block plan, although it is small so you may have to zoom in.

With regard to the amended description, there is only one new dormer, the rear dormer is to be extended and we are relocating an existing wood burner not providing a new stove. Would the below description be acceptable?

Single storey side extension, roof extension to include new dormer, rear dormer extension, relocation of wood burner with external flue and alterations to fenestration, following the demolition of existing side garage.

Kind Regards

Emma Pinder BSc (Hons) BArch
