Good morning Maria, thank you for your prompt reply and phone call.

As discussed during our call, we will be open Monday to Saturday between the hours of 1200 and 2200. We will be prepping prior to this time but this would be no earlier than 1000. Although upstairs is currently uninhabited, is owned by the same Landlord and we have a Chinese and an Indian Takeaway either side of the property I undertake to switch off the extractor fan by 2200 every day, it is actually my intention to switch the fan off as soon as cooking is completed for the evening which may well be around 2100.

I do not see that this operation will contribute to any more noise nuisance than is already in place from the other businesses.

Kind regards

Mick Browning

Given the current climate I do understand that these things will go to the wire but if you can give me an update I would be most grateful. This is an urgent matter as we have everyone awaiting a decision before we can proceed.
