Hi Simon,

You are quite right. Please find amended plan attached.

Thanks

Dawn

Hi Dawn,

Thanks for these. Just one query, you are showing a first floor window in the North elevation where there was not one previously and this window appears to be within a wardrobe. I assume this isn't right?

Kind Regards

Dear Simon,

Further to our recent correspondence, we now attach amended plans which have reduced the size of the dwelling on the plot. The dwelling has been reduced in length and width which results in the north elevation being further from the neighbour at 385 Chichester Road and there is now 2m from the front boundary of the site. A fence panel has also been shown to the south of the neighbour's existing window on the boundary to maintain a private amenity space for the proposed dwelling.

I trust you will now agree that the dwelling sits comfortably within the plot with good separation to boundaries and the neighbouring property. I would therefore hope you will now be able to support the proposal and look forward to receiving your comments.

Regards

Dawn

That's perfect thank you. I agree an extension until 27th September.

Thanks

Dawn
