Dear Mr Crowther, further to your letter dated the 2/3/21, please accept my apologies for not providing you with the full information as requested.

Please find attached an additional plan showing the additional side elevation. The 2 doors that form part of both the front and side elevations are part of the existing structure and are not new.

For clarification the only new element on the elevation plans is the velux window on the rear elevation.

Apologies once again.

regards
