Hi Malcolm,

The work being carried out in Barnham Road is Southern Water. CBUL are repairing a sunken manhole in the middle of the road due to a large dip, that was put into place a long time ago by a developer.

Below is the official breakdown from operations -

Emergency works, carriageway has sunk: excavation required to repair collapsed sewer and break out existing manhole chamber & rebuild. Closed from the junction of Downview Road to the junction of Elm Grove with works taking place outside no. 99 Barnham Road. Contact for the works and road closure is Lara Wiltshire of Cappagh Browne on [REDACTED]

Hope this helps.

With kind regards,

Dan

Can you find out if the works currently being done on Barnham road is Southern Water? The residents seem to think it is, but I was told it was highway.

Regards
