Afternoon Simon,
Apologies, I had chased again last week but the person I needed to speak with was away as half term.

Below is the Rear Spill Shield that will resolve this issue according to supplier, colour to match columns.

I have asked for an updated light spill plan to be sent across to confirm this. I will try and get this completed ASAP and will confirm a date as soon as I know.

Thank you for your patience, if you can hold fire on determination a little longer I would be very grateful.
Kind regards
Mark
