

West Orangery & South Orangery

- Replace Orangery (see attached design) to west side (rear) of Stable building addressing enforcement matters
- Form new opening through to main stable area
- Remove existing dilapidated glasshouse to south side of stable/garage building with Orangery
- Design of both orangeries to reflect the sub-Classical style of the main frontage taking cues from the formal appearance, the pilasters and parapets
- Design of both orangeries to reflect the sub-Classical style of the main frontage taking cues from the formal appearance, the pilasters and parapets

Orangeries are proposed as opposed to glasshouses as it is considered they would be more reflective of the style and use of the building as a 'country retreat'. Orangeries were a common feature of 17th Century built Anglo Dutch country houses (Kew Palace, etc)
