Dear Mr Davis

I have looked at the planning application online and have objections to what they say, I don't agree with root protection areas for the protected trees they are still to small for the size of the trees. They clearly have been sized to make the plans look ok, the new houses are still to close to the protected trees and subsequently they will need to be felled, which would have a very detrimental effect on the surrounding area.

The issue on flooding for surrounding properties hasn't been addressed the land drain at the back of my property and there properties is not substantial enough to cope with more surface water and is a few meters higher the the land itself (higher on my side) so unless they change the level of the land (which they are not supposed to) the water can't flow upwards to the piped land drain?

Will Bernie Haverson be consulted again about the trees as myself and my neighbours would like to either speak to him on the phone or meet him in person to show him what we mean about the trees. Can you please give me his contact details or give him my contact details.

Kind regards
