Dear Sir / Madam,

When my husband and I moved to Felpham about 50 years ago we were very impressed by West Bognor which in those days was the 'upmarket area' of the town. I was therefore greatly saddened when walking along Aldwick Road last week to see the numbers of empty shops and the lack of parking spaces.

However, outside the 'Hydro Tech Cleaners' at 77, Aldwick Rd., was an Amen District planning authority notice for two flats behind the premises.

Talking to the owner of the cleaners it was obvious that if the building went ahead she would have to close as she would have no room for the equipment she needs.

This would leave yet another empty shop and the closing of a business that has been thriving there for 23 years.

As far as I can see, the area does not need more residential properties; they would mean even fewer parking facilities.

It needs encouragement to attract more shops and businesses so that it can become once again a desirable place to visit.

The planning application should therefore be refused.

Yours faithfully,
