No EH objection in principal.

There is potential for noise from the proposed ground floor commercial use to impact upon the residential use at first floor level if this is in separate occupation. The significance of this impact will depend upon the hours of operation (proposal to operate Sundays & B/H's noted in the application), noise produced by activities on the ground floor, and the structure of the floor ceiling partition (no information available). The partition should at least conform to Building Regulation standards for insulation between dwellings.
