Dear Stephen,

I passed your note about the vacant building credit to our Interim Housing Strategy & Enabling Manager. He agrees that the affordable housing calculation is 0.46 of a unit and that the affordable housing contribution should therefore be paid in the form of a commuted sum, which would be calculated as follows £80,000 x 0.46 = £36,800. The figure £80,000 is quoted on our website here: <https://www.arun.gov.uk/affordable-housing>. Please advise whether this is accepted.

Kind Regards

Dear Stephen,

I can confirm that the rate is still £871 per new dwelling. Also, that as we have done previously, we consider this to be applied only in respect of the net gain in dwellings therefore 17 not 27.

I have made sure that our affordable housing consultee is aware of your application of the VBC.

Kind Regards

Hi Simon

I am pleased to note that the Economic Development officer welcomes our application and that there are no objections or adverse comments (yet!).

I note that there is a Committee on 13/2/19 – might we make that – or perhaps it can be delegated if there are no objections?

We are looking at the Unilateral Undertaking route to cover the Pagham Harbour contribution so that we can avoid the delay of going through the bank.

Our scheme proposes 27 flats, there are 10 flats lawfully present on site (without implementation of the extant 2017 permission), I assume that we are therefore looking at an increase of 17 flats x an indexed contribution per flat. Can you please advise on the updated figure for the contribution per flat. I note that this totaled £6,968 in September 17 for a net increase of 8 flats, ie £871 per flat. Once we have the figure we can prepare the UU.

You will have seen that paragraphs 7.20 – 7.24 in the submitted Planning Statement set out application of the Vacant Building Credit and that this results in a zero requirement for affordable housing contribution.

I look forward to hearing from you.
