Hi Richard

I can now confirm that the drawings, etc, in respect to the surface water drainage design for the car park extension are acceptable and the condition can therefore be discharged.

Richard,

Attached are drawings where, for 'belt and braces' I have added the Rev number in the Revision column on the drg.. I'm conscious of not confusing things further and I confirm that these are EXACTLY the same drawings as those just sent (as per my email to Julia previously attached) and as approved by Paul Cann..

They have the same drawing and revision numbers as the previously submitted plans.

I'll try and pass this through to my team leader but we cannot be sure we are approving the right plans.

Richard,

Please see attached email sent to Julia which sets out the drawings (which are attached to the email) that have been approved by the Engineers. I confirm these are the ones that form the basis of the DOC.

Dear Mr Johns,

With regards to the email response from Paul Cann below, can you clear up which plans we are meant to be approving?
It seems the latest plans have the same drawing numbers as the plans submitted before.

Richard

As discussed, there appears to be confusion in some of the drawings they have submitted, as there are duplicate drawing numbers, but these are in fact different drawings, as they were revised without giving a different revision letter.

I have tried to identify the acceptable drawings from the unacceptable ones, and I have detailed this below (please note the page numbers refer to the public facing planning portal);

Drg no. SK3_6 – the one on page 2 is superseded. The one on page 1 is correct.

Drg no. SK3_5 – the one on page 2 is superseded. The one on page 1 is correct.

Drg no. SK3_4 Rev A – the one on page 2 is superseded. The one on page 1 is correct.

Drg no. SK3_2 rev C – the one on page 2 is superseded. The one on page 1 is correct.

Drg no. SK4_rev B – superseded by rev C which is correct (both drawing revisions on portal)

Drg no. SK3_3 Rev B – 2 copies on portal – one may be slightly different to the other??

SK3_7 – two copies on portal, both are superseded and therefore the correct drawing needs to be provided.

Hope this makes sense.

I cannot recommend approval until I know which are the correct drawing numbers. I am ready to recommend this for approval but need to be clear on which drawings we are recommending.

Hello Keith

PP 06572274

Putting Green Hotham Park, Upper Bognor Road, Bognor Regis

Can you re name the plans on the page so when I print them, I can tell the difference as in Rev E – Rev F. They have the same reference but are different plans and I cannot sort them into order.

Thanks

Regards
