Keith

Following our discussion regarding this site, I confirm that since there was a prior agreement on the affordable housing element for the commuted sum, it would be appropriate in this instance to agree that the same formula is used on the revised number of AH which I understand will now be 14 units.

David candy found them and was going to put them up next week – I'll tell him not to

Also I have had a verbal response from level our ah consultant who have finished the new residual land valuation (upon which the original agreed offer was based) – the ah goes up by 2-3k – I'll write to you next week

Gian

I've put the orange notices up around the site.

Keith

If my client can get all other matters quickly agreed/resolved – I think that they will take a pragmatic decision on these sums

Thanks

I forgot to say yesterday that I have lost the red site notice – I was not sure when I could erect it anyway but was hoping to find a colleague who could

The WSCC figures for infrastructure are £4476 for library and £500 for fire.
