

The proposed doors are both tongue and groove. The rear door will be plain, apart from a glass panel to the top of the door in order to provide additional light into the kitchen (please refer to technician's drawings). The ironmongery to the front door may differ to that illustrated above.