

Arboricultural Implications.

The tree has grown too large for its environment and recently shed a limb on to the garage block below prompting our client to ask us to remove the tree, the access to this parcel of land is not good and on either side the targets area of any more large limb failures would lead to damage.

Reduction of any significance wouldn't really be an option due to the species.